008-20 11/02/2020	I am putting together a series of reports for ... about domestic abuse and violence. A) The first report will look back at the history of DV, the second will ask whether DV is the cause of many of societal problems, (homelessness /mental health/crime/violence etc) The third will ask how DV can be reduced. I am so interested to hear what our Police and Crime Commissioners think about DV and its prevalence. I am also hoping you can provide two stats. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1) The percentage of domestic violence in relation to all reported crime to the police.</li> <li>2) The percentage DV in relation to violent crime reported to the police.</li> </ol>	We have now considered your request and I am able to advise you of the following: Cumbria’s Police and Crime Commissioner, Peter McCall, said: “Domestic violence is unacceptable and will not be tolerated in Cumbria. “It’s exceptionally difficult to know how many sufferers of domestic violence there are as many victims are still too scared or even embarrassed to come forward and report their abuser. There will even be those who don’t even know that they are victims as they have been coerced to believe that they deserve it or that it is a sign of love: it is not. “Cumbria Constabulary are doing their best to protect those who have been subjected to abuse but we really need sufferers to come forward and report it, if the police don’t know about it then they can’t help. “Every report of domestic violence is taken very seriously and it will be investigated.

Ref No & Date	Request Received	Response Provided
		“I would also like anyone who is suffering at the hands of an abuser that if you do not want to come to the police there are other services that can help. “We have sexual assault services known as The Bridgeway who can help point victims in the right direction of help that they need, they can be contacted on 0808 118 6432. “There are also three women’s centres in Cumbria that help vulnerable women. Women Out West are based in Whitehaven, Barrow Women’s Community Matters based in Barrow and Gateway 4 Women based in Carlisle. All there contact details can be found on the Cumbria Together website. “Victim Support has a 24 hour helpline for those who wish to contact them at any time on 0808 1689 111. “The main message is clear: if you are a victim of domestic violence please speak to someone, your claims will be taken seriously and there are people who want to help. You don’t have to suffer in silence.” The Police and Crime Commissioner would also be happy to speak with you if this would be of assistance. Points 1) and 2)
